CONDUCTOR

WILLIAM A. SEYMOUR received his Bachelor of Music and Master of Music degrees from Boston University. Formerly the Director of Music for the public schools of Litchfield, Connecticut, and for eight years Choral Director at Brookline High School, he is currently Associate Dean and Chairman of the Graduate Division at the Boston Conservatory of Music, where he also conducts the Conservatory Chorale. He has served as Director of Choral Activities at the University of Vermont Summer Music Session, and is the Founder and Conductor of the internationally recognized Concordia Youth Chorale, which has concertized in fourteen countries of Europe.

A frequent guest conductor and clinician of choral festivals, Mr. Seymour is a member of the American Choral Directors Association, Pi Kappa Lambda honorary music fraternity, and is Governor of Province One (New England States) of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the national professional music fraternity. He has published several articles concerning choral music in the public schools, and is the author of a forthcoming book on choral conducting.
